

Here are some of the things our customers like about the production terminal module:

- It's a fast and inexpensive way to give production employees access to the system;
- Their access is limited to the screens they need, reducing distractions;
- It is easy for employees to clock-in; and,
- It has simple and quick screens for updating job tracking info (what's been done to an order or line item, labor time, etc.).

